THE LATE REVOLUTION.

Its Causes and its Consequences.

On Friday last Hon. Alex. H. H. Stuart, of Staunton, delivered his address before the Literary Societies of the University of Va. His subject was "The Late Revolution; its causes and its consequences; and the duties which result from it." We take the following sysnopsis of his remarks from the Charlottesville Chronicle:

Mr. Stuart begun by alluding to the solemn circumstances which now surround us after a period which had brought anguish and mourning to every household. He had committed his speech to writing because he thought it would express the conservative sentiment of Virginia as delivered in the very centre of education of the State. He thought that we were on the eve of another bloody revolution, as indicated by the passions of the parties, and this could be averted only by wise and moderate measures.—He thought the lull in the storm should be used by the South to recover its true position.—Hence he would discuss the causes and consequences of the recent war—that we might obtain instruction from the past that might prove useful in the future. He thought it erroneous to suppose slavery to be the cause of the recent struggle. There were wider and deeper causes, which had existed for years. The speaker here gave a synopsis of the history of the New England and Virginia colonies, proving that there had always been intolerance in the New England colonies, as shown by the causes which had led to the settlement of the different colonies by the peculiarity of their laws and ornanizations in religious and other matters, by the secular power the ministers had ever held there, &c.—No such state of affairs existed at the South, which had been dependent upon individual rather than combined efforts. He thought that this antagonism between the two sections would have brought about much trouble without slavery at all—not that according to his estimation these things were a sufficient cause of war, but the country had been the victim of extremists. The frenzy of the secessionists was the counterpart of the madness of the radicals.—The tendency of the North was to consolidation, of the South to distribution of power.—The victory as yet was on the side of consolidation. Whether it would be complete or not rested with the great West. This war had settled three great questions by the great arbiter of nations. The right of a State to secede was henceforth practically obsolete. State debts contracted in a war against the authority of the government were null and void. Slavery was abolished and freedmen entitled to their rights as such. There was now no middle ground between obedience to the government and revolution.

The speaker then went on to say that the same God, without whose knowledge not even a sparrow falls, had watched over the whole question of slavery, and that we should indulge in no vain regrets for the past, but look forward without despondency, and with hope to the future. He dwelt upon the duty of the people to the freedmen, and urged the importance of the educated class of persons meeting and overthrowing erroneous ideas. This would ultimately bring a higher and nobler reward than riding upon the current.

A Mechanic's Wife Receives a Legacy of $35,000,000---The Richest Woman in America.

[From the London Courant, June 28.]

The fickleness of fortune is well illustrated in the experience of a worthy family in this city, who have suddenly found themselves raised from that condition in society where people are said to live in "moderate circumstances" to the highest pinnacle of wealth. The facts are these: Mrs. Eli Walker, residing at No. 100 Maple avenue, is a woman of English birth.—Her husband (who is a machinist by trade) and herself have resided here for a number of years, and have several children. It was reported some months ago that a large property, valued at thirty-five million of dollars, had fallen to Mrs. Walker's father, as a direct heir, and he being dead, that the whole amount belonged to her as his only child. Steps were at once taken to ascertain the truth of this report, and ex-Governor T. H. Seymour was employed to investigate. The result of his investigation is entirely favorable to Mrs. Walker, documents having been received which show beyond question that she will come in possession of this immense property, and she, together with her husband and children, will start for England next week to receive the golden egg.

We congratulate Mrs. Walker and her family upon their good fortune. She will be, when in full possession of her property, the richest woman in the United States. But she is said to be a woman of good sense, and will not place herself beyond the reach of those who have been her friends during the years she has lived here; already we learn that it is her purpose to make one family at least, in whom she is interested, independent of want; and we shall probably be called upon hereafter to chronicle other charitable deeds which her generosity will prompt.

A WINCHESTER GIRL OF '63.—One day, during the hard Winter of '63, a Miss Arnold applied to Gen. Milroy for a permit to purchase forage for her cow, whose milk was an item of no little importance to the subsistence of her father's family during the reign of that monster. "Are you loyal?" asked the General. "Yes," she replied. He began to write the permit.—"To the United States or Confederate States?" "To the Confederacy, of course," she replied.—"Then I shall give you no permit. This infamous rebellion must be crushed." "Well," said she, "if you can crush it by starving John Arnold's old cow do it, and be drot to you."

What is the matter in Louisville? The Democrat and Journal, which have been abusing each other like pick-pockets for a dozen years, and were never on the same side of any measure or candidate, united in supporting Col. R. R. Bolling for the elective office of Clerk of the Court of Appeals. Thereupon the Col.—resigns!

Some indignation was excited in the South by a report that the field where the Confederate dead, who felt at the battle of Franklin, were buried, had been turned over by Gen. Fisk to the freedmen to be plowed and cultivated.—The report is quite unfounded. Gen. Fisk has no control over the land, nor has it been allotted to freedmen, nor has it been plowed up or disturbed.—Lou. Jour.

THE SENTINEL.

WM. E. PELL, SEATON GALES. } Editors.

Tuesday Evening, July 3, 1866.

FOR GOVERNOR,

JONATHAN WORTH,

OF RANDOLPH.

OUR TERMS.

THE SENTINEL is issued every morning (Sunday excepted) at the following rates:

For Daily, per year,	$10 00
" six months,	5 00
" one month,	1 00
" two months,	2 00
Semi-Weekly, per year,	5 00
Weekly, per year,	3 00

Our terms are invariably in advance. Money may be sent us by the Rail Road conductors or the Express Companies.

Fourth of July.

Following the example of our cotemporaries, the Sentinel will not be issued on to-morrow.—The day has many hallowed reminiscences, and we trust the time is not far distant when every citizen of the South will enjoy the same liberty, under a restored Union and Constitution, that we enjoyed when the Fourth of July was a real and truthful memento of American Independence.

The colored people of the South may celebrate the day with zest and real delight, for they alone, of the people of the South, truly enjoy that liberty. But so long as military surveillance, the Fredmen's Bureau, the Civil Rights bill, and a threatened constitutional amendment which robs the Southern States and the Southern people of the rights they enjoyed under the old Constitution, are held over us as a rod, the celebration of the Fourth of July could only serve as a reminder of better days, gone! alas! gone! perhaps forever!

The New Constitution.

This important paper is now before our readers, and, in a few days, it will have been read in all parts of the State. On the first Thursday in August it will be submitted to the people for ratification or rejection.

Passed by a body elected for a specific and different object, and, as we believe, limited in its powers to that object, we should, on that account alone, oppose its ratification, but for our repugnance to frequent tampering with the organic law of the State. For many years there has been a felt necessity among our people, that the Constitution of the State should be re-written and presented in a concise form, plain and perspicuous, that those who run may read and understand. This was urged strongly upon the Convention of 1861, and, if we remember correctly, the committee on the Constitution, of which Gov. Graham was Chairman, had nearly completed that work before its adjournment.

At the first session of the late Convention, the work of re-writing the Constitution was assigned to a Committee, composed of B. F. Moore, Esq., of Wake, and Wm. Eaton, Jr., Esq., of Warren, and their work is before the public. It has been admirably done. A more concise, perspicuous document, expressed in better-chosen verbiage, could hardly be desired. In these respects it will compare well, we think, with any similar document in the country.—Some of the amendments, adopted by the Convention, and hastily drawn up, perhaps somewhat mar its diction, but, upon the whole, though not faultless, it is an excellent embodiment of the organic law of the State.

Moreover, the new Constitution will be found to be strongly conservative, embodying very nearly the will of the people of the State. Attempts were made to infuse into it the virus of Radicalism, but, on a hasty examination of it, we are inclined to the opinion, that it is very nearly, though perhaps not entirely, free from ultraisms.

We must reserve, to a future day, a more critical examination of the document, and especially of the several amendments made. The most of these we consider decided improvements.—Hence, as the good points of the new Constitution so far predominate over the bad, and as the liberties of the people are always put more or less in jeopardy by frequent attempts to alter the organic law, with our present lights we are disposed to urge its adoption. Should the people ratify it, it will become the organic law of the State, notwithstanding the doubts in reference to the authority of the Convention. We must however repeat our regret that so short a period has been given to the people for its consideration.

THE BLIND, stupid malignity of the Congressional Radicals, in attempting to put an oppressive tax on Cotton and Tobacco, is unparalleled in legislative history. Their object is to raise revenue, and they take the very measures to defeat that object by crushing the States from which a great portion of these revenues must come. If, as the Richmond Whig suggests, they will let the South alone, and leave her industry unshackled by onerous burdens, in a few years she will yield revenues sufficient to pay more than her portion of the public debt, and to enrich thousands of individuals, North and South, besides.

Gov. Vance.

We see it noticed in the papers that Ex-Governor Vance has consented to allow his name to be used in connection with the election of the Directors or the President of the North Carolina Rail Road, and we are glad to hear it. —Salisbury Banner.

We are surprised at the above, after our emphatic and authorized statement that Ex-Gov. Vance had positively declined to allow his name to be urged upon the proper authorities as a candidate for either place.—EDS. SENTINEL.

CANADA.—General Sherman seems to have a very poor opinion of Canada, for on a recent visit to Sandusky, Ohio, the question of Canadian annexation being discussed, he said, "We don't want Canada, but if we should, a campaign of five days would bring it."

Political Movements.

When Jonathan Worth consented, under circumstances of doubt and difficulty, last October, to bear the banner of the conservative Union men of the State aloft, he did so at a great sacrifice of personal comfort and pecuniary advantage. Moreover, it was at the risk of strong opposition from many of his old personal and political friends. That banner was crowned with victory, or rather success.

In doing this, he did not place himself at the head of a party, nor did he enter into any partizan pledges. He neither ignored his old principles nor did he assume any new ones, but consented to be the representative man of that portion of our people who sincerely sympathized with and supported a liberal and conciliatory course towards all classes of our population, and the restoration policy of President Johnson.

Since he assumed the Gubernatorial chair, while we do not assert that his administration has been perfect, yet we do hold, that no previous administration of State affairs has given greater satisfaction to the honest masses, than his. Few men have labored harder to do their duty fully, and none have ever been more honest and faithful, so to administer the government of the State as to promote, as far as he was able, the peace and prosperity of the people of the State.

It is, however, evident, that there are some among his former supporters, forgetting the absolute necessity of harmony among the conservative Union men, in order to give the strongest moral support to President Johnson, or because, perchance, they imagine they still belong to one of the old parties, (which we supposed were extinct or at least suspended,) who seem disposed to rally under former leaders and former banners. The results of such a movement can be easily seen. Division and inefficiency, and the possible defeat of the conservative Union cause, without any correspondent benefit to any, except the encouragement and possible success of Radicalism, might be the consequence.

We are decided in our convictions that there should be no party organization until full reconciliation is effected with the Union. This can only be accomplished by the concentrated activity and effort of conservative Union men, North and South. If, however, the Northern Democracy should elect to act separate and alone, and thus divide the forces of the conservative men, and if, in this State and the South, Democrats are determined to revive the old party with its old issues, re-vamped and adapted to the times, nothing but an overwhelming defeat to the President and to Constitutional Union will be the result. With such movements we have no sympathy. When, therefore, we declare that we belong to no party,—that we ignore party for the sake of restoring a Constitutional Union, and to support the President, —when we declare our readiness to support old Democrats and old Whigs, it is with the distinct understanding that they have, at least for the nonce, laid aside party issues, party measures and party names, and are heartily devoted to the one great object of effecting a speedy reconciliation with the Union, on the policy of President Johnson.

If there be those, who prefer the revival of old party names and party issues, to a particular combination for effecting a speedy reconciliation with the Union under the Constitution and under the lead of the President—if there be a purpose with any to revive hatred and hostility to the Union and sectional issues, for party purposes,—we can have nothing to do with them. We support no man, nor set of men, who are hostile to a Constitutional Union or who have partizan and ulterior designs, under the guise of giving support to the President.

Opposition to Gov. Worth we expect from ultra Radicals, or from weak-kneed men, who tremble and are ready to take water at the nod of Thad. Stevens. They will organize opposition to him, if they can, and will support the Howard amendment at the bidding of the Radical organ in this city. But opposition to Gov. Worth from those who profess to be Constitutional Union men, can only be a prelude for the carrying out partizan designs, at the sacrifice or hazard of Southern liberty and of a complete Constitutional Union.

The National Convention.

Outside of the advantages to the country at large, in harmonizing the discordant elements of the day, that are likely to ensue from the proposed National Convention at Philadelphia, there is one consideration that specially commends the movement to Southern sanction.—Denied representation in Congress, there has been no authentic and official manner in which the South could hitherto make its voice heard. When exactions have been made upon it, the motives with which the concession has been made have been misrepresented and perverted. Our people have had no opportunity, with the nation for an audience, of protesting, in the face of the world, against the further unwarrantable demands that have been imposed upon them. They have had no chance of publicly denouncing the injustice of which they have been, and are attempted still further to be made, the victims, in being deprived of their rights under the Constitution, after having submitted, in perfect faith, to all the requirements that were said to be necessary to reconciliation. The contemplated Convention offers them this opportunity.

The delegates whom they may send will be associated with patriotic gentlemen from all sections of the country, who sympathize with the wrongs which have been practiced on the South, and who have united in this call for the avowed and specific design of remedying those wrongs, so far as they can, and restoring the Union to its Constitutional integrity. They will listen patiently and appreciatively to the exposition of our views, wishes and purposes; and, besides, coming from the South, in an organized capacity, it will be given that form of public expression which will tell with powerful weight upon the whole country.

We are anxious, therefore, that our people, in their primary meetings, should at once set about the work of appointing delegates. We know the general indifference and listlessness that prevail upon the subject of reconstruction, owing to former and repeated disappointments and universal distrust of the intentions of the Radical faction in Congress. But we trust that the promise of good results which this proposed Convention holds out will stimulate the people to make the effort to secure them.

Let them select as their representatives men of approved judgment, prudence, moderation and firmness. In making their choice, let them bear in mind that one intemperate, rash, violent speech in the Convention would not only be foolish and useless, within itself, but might frustrate all the benefits that may reasonably be expected to flow from its deliberations.

As far as practicable, too, let the delegates selected be equally divided between the old Whig and Democratic parties. This will be another important step in the work of harmony and union. We have already expressed our commendation of the patriotic course pursued by the Democratic leaders in Congress, in consenting to merge their mere party predilections, for the time being, for the sake of the general good. We have long been satisfied that perhaps the greatest obstruction, in the way of the success of the President's policy, was the seeming desire and purpose of the Northern Democracy to maintain its distinctive organization,—thereby preventing a fusion of all the conservative elements of the country in support of the Executive. For similar reasons, we have opposed, and, until our difficulties are adjusted, shall continue to oppose, the revival of all old party issues or combinations at the South. When those difficulties are settled, it will be time enough to return to our former affiliations or to seek such other as the exigencies of the times shall demand. Meanwhile, there is but one issue in which the South,—in which all good and true men of the nation,—are interested: Shall Radicalism or Conservatism prevail? Shall we sustain the President or the Congress? Shall the great charter of our rights and liberties continue to be the mere foot-ball of a desperate and unprincipled faction, or shall it be re-placed upon the high and lofty eminence where our fathers left it?

Artificial Limbs.

Our respected cotemporary, the Wilson Carolinian, in noticing Gov. Worth's circular to the maimed and disabled soldiers of the State, very properly alludes to rumors seriously affecting the utility of the Jewett leg, which, if true, would fully justify Gov. Worth in closing his contract with that Company. The Carolinian says:

"By a late act of the General Assembly, these soldiers are to be furnished with artificial limbs at the expense of the State, and there breathes not an honest man in North Carolina who does not applaud this action of our State Legislators; but while we approve the act, and deem it alike creditable to the hearts and patriotism of our representatives, we regret to learn that the limbs that are being manufactured are of an inferior quality, and unless improved, are likely to prove of no practical benefit whatever to those for whom they are intended.

If, as is stated, the limbs are of a clumsy character, and from their construction painful to the wearer, then, some one is to blame for awarding the contract to incompetent manufacturers, and if those whose duty it is to inspect the work, shall suffer an inferior article to be palmed off on the State, at the expense of those unfortunate persons requiring artificial limbs, we trust they will be held up to the people in their true light. We make no charges now; we are merely anticipating from what rumor has whispered to us, and are truly averse to believing that there is a man in North-Carolina so steeped in baseness, as to connive and assist at cheating these poor men, who are really the losers by the war."

We are glad that the Carolinian has referred to these rumors, and we hope the press throughout the State, and every individual who has good reason to believe that any limbs furnished by the Company are not according to contract, will report them at once to Gov. Worth.

We know that Gov. Worth made the most patient and earnest efforts to procure all the information necessary to secure the very best artificial limbs for our soldiers, upon terms favorable both to the maimed and disabled and to the State. To be sure of having the contract rigidly complied with, he not only guarded the State's interest well in the contract, but, to afford the greatest convenience to the soldiers and to secure the assurance of having a good limb, well fitted, &c., he required them to be manufactured here. Every precaution has been taken to prevent imposition.

We believe the Jewett Company is anxious to comply with the letter and spirit of the contract. They are willing to have their work closely criticised and to be judged of impartially. It is also due to them, and the public, to state, that the competition between limb manufacturers is so great, that the public are in danger of being misled by interested agents of other Companies, who seem to take pleasure in depreciating the work of their fellow-craftsmen. Rumors from this quarter should be carefully scrutinized.

THE EPHESUS.—This steamer, we understand, leaves our harbor to-day for Liverpool, direct. It is highly gratifying to us to state, and will be to many to know, that Colonel Lamb, by his untiring energy and enterprise, has succeeded in obtaining almost a full cargo for this mammoth ship. The result, so far, taking into consideration the dullness of this season of the year, ought to give general satisfaction. We wish her a pleasant voyage.—Norfolk Virginian, of Saturday.

DECLINES.—Hon. B. Gratz Brown, Senator from Missouri, has written a letter declining to be a candidate for re-election. He expresses regret that the people of Missouri do not propose to make universal suffrage an issue in the contest pending in Missouri, and says they have been driven to this course partly "by the irresolution and timidity of a Congress that feared to do right, although constant in declaring what was right."

THE ODORS OF VARIOUS DISEASES.—The odor of small-pox has been compared to the smell of a he-goat; measles to that of a fresh-plucked goose; scarlatina to the smell of cheese; the plague to the scent of May flowers; typhus fever to ammonia.

GENERAL NEWS.

A farmer was struck by lightning near Madisonville, Kentucky, last week, and instantly killed. He was stripped naked, except the wristband of his shirt on his left arm. Fragments of clothing were scattered to the distance of thirty yards—the pieces mostly in little squares, some not over half an inch. The uppers were cut smooth from the soles of his boot; large thick heel of left boot cut in two; opening in left temple, also on back of head; skull broken, but not crushed.

THE POPULATION OF FRANCE.—The eleventh census of France is now being taken, and the results are looked for with great interest. France grows very slowly, and in the ratio of increase of population is behind every other European country. Her population was 27,000,000, in 1801, and in 60 years, to 1861, had increased but 9,000,000.

If the ten commandments were proposed in Congress, some Radical would arise to offer a Constitutional amendment.—Louisville Democrat.

We wonder if the seventh and eighth would not be seriously amended?

In the Hartford Police Court, on Saturday, a man was arraigned under a charge "that on the 15th day of June, A. D., 1866," &c., &c., &c., the said Morgan "did with force and arms feloniously take one fan, three skeins of yarn, one palpitating bosom, one pair scissors," etc., etc.

COTTON PROSPECTS IN ALABAMA.—A late Mobile letter reports that the fine weather has given an impetus to the young cotton in that State, and the hope is expressed that the yield of Alabama will not be less than three hundred thousand bales.

Captain Phillip W. Forney, a son of John W. Forney, D. D., was recently tried before a court martial in California, and dismissed from the service, for disobedience of orders and conduct unbecoming an officer and a gentleman. The sentence of the court has been confirmed by the commanding General.

A pet bear got loose in Worcester, a day or two ago, and created no little trepidation among the residents of that city. After he was secured no one could be found who had felt afraid.

Gigantic omnibuses on a new model have been constructed in Paris. They are so contrived that upwards of fifty persons can be seated on the roof.

The Mayor of Brooklyn, N. Y., vetoed a bill raising his own salary.

The salary of the French minister of war is $38,600 and board.

Cruelties to Prisoners.

The result in the case of Major John H. Gee, who had charge of the Confederate prison at Salisbury, and has undergone a long and painful trial by military commission upon accusation of cruelty to Federal prisoners, is gratifying to the public, and especially so to the friends of the Major himself, who is a gentleman of honor and integrity, utterly incapable of the cruelties imputed to him. The court, as every one knows who knows this gentleman, was fully justified in his honorable acquittal.

It would be nothing more than an acquiescence in the demands of justice and humanity that the monotony of these prosecutions of the keepers of "rebel" prisons should be relieved by an interlude, in which some of those who treated cruelly Confederate prisoners should be arraigned and fairly tried. There were monstrous barbarities practiced upon some poor southern boys in northern prisons, the bare recital of which now would make the heart ache. And yet those northern prisons could have been supplied with every reasonable comfort for the prisoner. We have no doubt, indeed, that the Government had to pay for such supplies, but the keepers, combining fraud with brutality, intercepted them, appropriating them to their own benefit, and leaving the prisoners, for whom they were intended, to suffer. Many were thus murdered; for such deaths as they died was nothing less than murder. That such cases were known to people in the north, as well as to southern prisoners, we have not a doubt. Yet, here we have entered upon the second year since the end of the war, and not one of them has been made the subject of official investigation, while the "rebel" prison-keepers have been hunted through the land—some caught and tried, and one hung.

In these trials of the Southern officers one leading, glaring fact has all the time stood forth in bold relief, staring the nation and the world in the face: It was that the South had not the means to feed the large number of prisoners she was forced to keep by the repeated rejection of her earnest propositions to exchange prisoners; and those who controlled the decision of the Federal Government rejecting these propositions were, in fact and in deed, the authors of all the sufferings of the Federal prisoners, and a just public opinion in the future and the unerring justice of Heaven will hold them accountable for the same, and vist upon them the proper condemnation.—Richmond Dispatch.

SCOTCH STORIES.—A new edition of Rev. Chas. Rogers' Familiar Illustrations of Scottish Life contains these stories:

The Professor and the Fool.—Learned Professors have occasionally been outwitted by the sayings of the simple. Dr. Hill, an Edinburg Professor of the last century, met in the suburbs of the city an inoffensive creature who was generally regarded as an imbecile. Somewhat irritated, by the intrusion upon the privacy of his walk, the Professor said to him, "How long, Tom, may one live without brains?" "I dinna ken," said Tom; "how long hae ye lived yersel?"

"The People Shrewed and Simple."—A miner in Alloa waited on the session clerk with the request that he might be proclaimed in the parish church in order to marriage. The official explained that the dues were as follows: One guinea if the proclamation was completed in one day, half a guinea if continued for two Sabbaths, and seven shillings and sixpence should the proclamation be made on three Sabbaths. "So it's aye the less, I see," said the miner; "then ye may just cry on till ye pay yersel."

A sailor's wife at Portpatrick had just received intelligence that her husband had perished at sea. She was visited by a neighbor, who sympathized with her on her loss, and expressed a fear shat she would be poorly off.—"Deed will I," said the widow, "but he did all he could for me—he's saved me the expense of his buryin."

A person in the vicinity of Perth was working in his garden when his wife returned from a visit to the city. "Ye're busy, gudeman." "Ou ay, gude wife." "I hae been in Perth," proceeded she, "an' I hae lost a note. But dinna be angry, gudeman; rather let's be thankful that we had nae to lose."

DIED,

In the city of New York, in the 29th year of her age, MINERVA GRAHAM BAKER, fourth daughter of the late Hon. Wm. H. Haywood, of Raleigh, North Carolina.

Thus, in the flower of her age, has suddenly been cut down one of the fairest, gentlest, and purest of her sex. She has left a husband to a solitude the more cheerless from its contrast to the charm of her delightful companionship; a little daughter too young to realize the extent of her calamity, and, yet, at the very age which most requires maternal tenderness and care; a widowed mother, whose heart had been pierced by many recent and poignant sorrows, and who, in her present bereavement, mourns with a grief which only a mother can know, the loss of one of the most cherished props of her declining years; a brother, sisters, relatives, and friends, who in all their intercourse with her, however intimate, can recall only that which, now that she is gone, it is soothing and profitable to remember.

Among the dearest of those recollections is that of her humble and earnest piety. The grace of her baptism was manifest in all her childhood; and in the days of her early youth she assumed in confirmation, and at the table of her Lord, the full responsibilities of a Christian. Her after-life was worthy of such a beginning. In all her walk and conversation, even in her countenance and manner, goodness, meekness, faith, charity, and their sister graces shone serenely bright, making her simple presence suggestive of a purer and a better world.

Such a visitation of Providence, so unexpected, disappointing such dear and cherished hopes, inflicting such deep and painful wounds, is, indeed, a severe trial of our faith. "But let God be true, and every man a liar!" "His ways are not as our ways, nor His thoughts as our thoughts." All wise, all holy, and all good, He knows, and He does what is best for those who trust in Him. Be it ours to have this trust! Be it ours "to cast all our care upon Him who careth for us;" to resign ourselves and all who are dear to us into His gracious keeping; to kiss His rod though it smites us to the dust; and in our sorest disappointments and trials, to say from our hearts: "It is the Lord; let Him do what seemeth Him good!"

S.

At his residence, near Mt. Airy, Surry County, N. C., on the 17th day of May, 1866, SAMUEL D. MOORE, Esq in the sixty-third year of his age.

He was an energetic and enterprising business man, kind hearted and benevolent almost to a fault, charitable to the needy, and in every respect a most estimable citizen. A large circle of relatives and friends mourn over his death, but they sorrow not as those without hope, for he left the clearest evidences that he was prepared to change his state of existence and ready to enter into the enjoyment of eternal life. He lived a generous and high souled man, and calmly and quietly died a christian.

THE SENTINEL.

Tuesday Evening, July 3, 1866.

CITY AND STATE ITEMS.

THE LUTHERAN SYNOD of North Carolina, at a late session, had a lengthy discussion of a resolution to re-unite with the old General Synod of the North. The question was finally decided in the negative, by a vote of two to one. There were several reasons for their opposition to re-union. The old arrangement was such as to render the Southern Synods mere auxiliaries to the absorbing enterprises of the Church in the North, both as respects means and ministers.—Since the war terminated, the Northern Lutherans have indulged in the same offensive language which some Northern Methodists have repeatedly uttered, to their own discredit, against the members of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South.

The above-named Synod appointed a Committee to correspond with clergymen in Protestant Germany, for the purpose of procuring and facilitating direct immigration from Germany to North Carolina. This plan originated with Rev. Mr. Aldrich, of Charlotte, and meets with public favor.

BIRTH-PLACE OF BISHOP PAINE.—A North Carolina correspondent of the N. Y. Watchman gives the following description of the birth-place of the venerable Bishop Paine, of the Methodist Church:

"Passing through Person county, recently, I visited the birth-place of the beloved and honored Bishop Paine, of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South. It is a plain, neat country residence about fifteen miles from Hillsboro. In front of the house stands the largest tree I ever saw. It is a gigantic white-oak, notable in the section as the tree around which the British stacked their muskets in the Revolution, and beneath which the courts were held for a season after the end of the war;—so much larger than the trees around it, it reminded me of the good Bishop whose early childhood was sheltered by its genial foliage, while the luxuriant orchard around it suggested the fertile usefulness of him who for scores of years has been nursing immortal plants in the garden of the Lord."

NAG'S HEAD.—A correspondent of the Norfolk Day Book says of this once delightful place of Summer resort:

"We have recently made a short visit to Nag's Head, and wandered over the sites of the former summer residences of those who were wont to frequent that delightful place of summer resort, in other and better years. And nowhere, comparatively, are the fearful effects of war more patent and palpable than there. Of the many houses that were, only one or two remain. The large commodious hotel, and the beautiful cottage-like dwellings that crowned the knolls and precipitous bluffs, many of them embosomed in groves of live oak, that were festooned with vines, and fanned by the pure bracing atmosphere of ocean, have, like many other things, yielded to the cruel ravages of war; and all that now remains are a few scattered, worthless fragments.

How painful to think that the accommodations, at this favorite summer resort, of so many of the once well-to-do Eastern North Carolinians and Virginians, have not survived the fearful wreck and ruin of the last few years. Had they, how many a diseased one, worn out in body and in mind, and sighing for health and recuperation, might have returned and found relief in those exercises and scenes, which were so fondly sought in other days."

THE BUREAU IN NEWBERN.—The Commercial gives the following account of a recent case before the "Bureau," as it is administered in the city of Newbern:

"Sheriff Ballinger had bound out to him, by the agents of the Bureau, an orphan negro girl some eight to ten years old. The child was in the habit of running off and staying out all night, or till found and brought back. A police officer named Walcott, who boarded with Mr. Ballinger, was requested by the latter, on one of the occasions of the girl running off, to look out for her while on duty, and if he found her to whip her, or scare her by a threat of putting her in jail, and to bring her home. Next morning, just before day, the officer met the child in the streets and took her towards her home, and lectured her and threatened to put her in jail, and on his way picked up a strip of ratan cane (which we have seen) and struck her a few blows over the skirt of her dress. The child of course cried aloud, and her cries attracted the attention of Dr. Menzinger, before whose house she happened then to be. At that still hour of the morning a little noise will awaken most men. Dr. M. interfered, and the case was brought before the City Board of Council, on a charge of cruelty against the officer. The Board thought the matter quite trivial; but Dr. M. withdrew the charge and sent the case before the Freedmen's Bureau. There the only evidence was what we have above stated. Dr. M. was the only witness against the officer (who indeed admitted all we have stated); and Mr. Ballinger produced the strip of cane and testified that, in view of an investigation into the matter, he had examined the child's person and no mark of violence could be found on her.

The Bureau fined the officer $25, and Mr. Ballinger $10—the one for striking the child, the other for requesting him to do so!

We hold that it was wrong in the first place to inflict any fine in such a case, the chastisement being that which the tenderest parent would inflict upon his own child, and also being intended for the child's own good. The Bureau officers do not seem to know that by the laws of this State, an apprentice, whether white or black, is made to assume the relation of child to the person to whom he or she is bound, and that relation carries with it the right, on the part of the master, to inflict necessary and reasonable chastisement. But even if not justified by law, the nature of the offense did not warrant the imposition of such excessive fines."

The Commercial might have proceeded further, and contrasted the action of the Bureau, in this case, with the late action of a school Committee in Cambridge, Massachusetts, which justified the flogging of a young lady by a pedagogue in that town. The color makes the difference, we presume!

New Hampshire Ratifies the Amendment.

CONCORD, N. H., June 28.

The House of Representatives this afternoon ratified the constitutional amendment by a vote of 203 yeas to 107 nays.

Even the severest censure may be softened. The editor of the Norfolk Virginian says that Forney is an unmitigated scoundrel, but—"good enough to go to Congress."

Louisiana Politics.

NEW ORLEANS, June 28.

Judge Durell, a member of the Convention of 1864, says it was composed of non-residents who were elected by the army and officers and men about the gunboats, that it is without legal existence and that any attempt to re-convene it is revolutionary.

Aversion of the Prussians to the War.

There is a great popular discontent among the Prussian people at the determination of the government to go to war. A correspondent of the Paris Temps says that in travelling through the Rhenish provinces belonging to Prussia he found the prisons of Coblentz, Cologne, Dusseldorf, Wesel, Mindel and Munster filled with soldiers of the landwehr, accused of seditious cries or of acts of grave insubordination. Soldiers on the way to the army sang songs against Count de Bismark, and even against the King. Others shouted out, "The Austrians forever!" without any fear, and the officers pretended not to hear. The same writer says:

"The discontent is increasing every day.—Nearly all the manufacturing establishments in the provinces are already closed, or on the point of being so. Commerce is defunct, bankruptcies innumerable; in another week there will be a vast number of workmen out of employment, and the consequences of such a state of things are easy to foresee. At Berlin, the situation is similar, with, however, this difference, that disturbances have already commenced there."

Indiana Politics.

NEW ALBANY, IND., June 28.

The Democratic Congressional Convention which assembled here to-day was large and enthusiastic. Major Sherrod presided. A series of resolutions were passed acknowledging the justice of the late war for the Union; declaring uncompromising hostility to suffrage for negroes; endorsing the President's vetoes of the Freedmen's Bureau and Civil Rights bills; opposing an increase of the rates of duties upon imposts; warmly approving of the restoration policy of the President; opposing any amendment to the Constitution at the present time; declaring that none of the States were ever out of the Union during the late rebellion; opposing the exemption of three thousand millions of the wealth of the country from taxation; denouncing the legislation of the Radical Congress, and demanding of the National Legislature that every species of wealth shall bear its equal share of taxation.

Hon. M. C. Kerr was nominated for re-election by acclamation.

Sketches of Austrian Generals.

The really distinguished leaders of the Austrian army are few in number, and nearly all well advanced in years. They served in 1812 and 1813 under Prince Schwartzenburg, made the campaign of Hungary in 1849, that of Italy against Charles Albert, and that of 1859, the most important of all. In case of a war, those who appear destined to the principal command are the following: The Arch-duke Albert, son of the immortal Prince Charles Marshal Henry de Hesse, Benedick, Schwartzenburg, and Clam-Gallas.

Marshal de Hesse is seventy-three years of age, spare in person, and active in mind and habits. His career dates from the battle of Wagram, in which he took part, being then in his seventeenth year. It was he who decided the Austrian victory over the Piedmontese in 1848, by the stragetical movement from Verona, and he took a very active part in the battle of Novara. The Italians regard him as a very formidable enemy, and admit that he will give them no little trouble.

Prince Schwartzenburg is tall, well-made, and very vigorous, notwithstanding his seventy-two years. In 1848 he commanded a division of cavalry in Italy. He distinguished himself at the battle of Comorn, in Hungary, by preventing, with his division, the insurgents from debouching on the right bank of the Danube. At the battle of Magenta he commanded the third corps d' armee, with which he covered the retreat of the Austrians. At Solferino he was in the left wing, opposed to Gen. O'Neill. He is one of the most brilliant officers of the Austrian army, and is, moreover, an author.

Marshal Benedick is only fifty eight. While a colonel, in 1848, he fought in the campaign against the Piedmontese. In 1859 he commanded the Eighth Corps at San Martino. Since Radetsky's death he has been first warrior of Austria. It is probable that he will be charged to oppose the Prussians. The life of Count Clam-Gallas has been very active; he has shared in all the wars of Austria since 1848. In Hungary, however, he only succeeded in vanquishing the Gen. Bem through the aid of the Russians. At present he commands the First Corps of the Austrian army of Prague.

We must not omit to mention Gen. Gablentz, who commanded the Austrians in the war against Denmark, and Gen. Ramming, to whom Austria was indebted in the Hungarian campaign for the decisive success obtained at Temesvar.—Salut Public, of Lyons.

A WORD TO FREEDMEN.—From the best information we can get, the Freedmen in this and adjoining counties are performing their respective labors and fulfilling their contracts equally as well if not better than was expected. This is to their credit, and we sincerely hope for their own benefit and the community's, they will continue to do so. We regret to say however it is not so much so with the women; a good many of them seem disposed to do nothing, or work on short time, without any regard to the future or their contracts. We urge upon all industrious and worthy Freedmen to use their best endeavor to make their respective families do their part as well as themselves. The time will come when they will need it. We suggest this for their own benefit.—Tarboro Southerner.

A FENIAN VIEW.—A Mr. McBride thus makes a slap at the Government prosecuting him as a Fenian:

"I embraced the earliest moment when my strength would enable me to leave my bed, and voluntarily went into court and gave bail for my appearance to answer to the grave criminal charge,—prepared by a United States officer,—of loving the land I was born in!"

And that, says the Mail, is the very offense for which thousands of Mr. McBride's countrymen have done their utmost to punish Southern men. What a difference it makes when "your bull gores my ox!"

EXECUTED.—Charles Parks, a freedman, was executed in this place on Friday last for murdering his wife. A very large concourse of negroes from the surrounding country gathered to witness the execution, together with a number of whites, but the day passed off without disturbance of any sort. The civil officers took the necessary precaution to organize and arm a strong police force, and would have been ready to suppress any disorder, but we learn that all classes behaved with so much decorum that there was no interference on the part of the police with any one.—Charlotte Democrat.

Congress.

WASHINGTON, July 2, P. M.

The Conference Committee have arranged the differences between the two Houses on the Freedmen's Bureau bill, and it now goes to the President for approval or rejection.

The House passed a resolution requesting the President to inform that body whether the personal rights of citizens of the United States are at present sufficiently protected in the Southern States, and whether any further legislation is necessary to clothe him with sufficient authority to protect all loyal citizens of the States recently in rebellion in the enjoyment of their constitutional rights.

The Senate has confirmed Jos. M. Humphreys as Collector of Customs at Richmond, Va.

Suicide of Senator Lane.

WASHINGTON, July 2.

Rep. Clarke this morning received a telegram from Leavenworth, Kansas, stating that Senator Lane, of that State, shot himself thro' the head last night and died at 9 o'clock, to-day.

Senator Lane left this City a week or ten days ago, and at that time complained of being unwell and and suffering from nervous debility.

The Roussean-Grinnell Affair.

WASHINGTON, July 2.

Reps. Banks, Spalding and Thayer, from the majority of the special committee on the Rousseau-Grinnell affair, made a report to-day.

They condemned Rousseau for caning Grinnell, on the ground that an act of violence against a representative is an act of insurrection (!) against the people he represents, and that Rousseau committed an inexcusable breach of the privileges of the House. They, therefore, offered a resolution for his expulsion, while they recommended another resolution, saying that the personal reflections of Grinnell on Rousseau in debate merit the disapproval of the House.

The minority of the Committee, (Raymond and Logan,) while concurring generally in the views of the majority, propose that Rousseau be only reprimanded.

The report will be hereafter considered.

A NATIONAL ODE FOR 1866.

FOURTH OF JULY.

I

Come brothers shout, let the banners stream out,
Sound trumpet and beat on the drum;
Let our bonfires bright, beam forth thro' the night,
For the Fourth of July has come.
In gallant glad trend, all looking ahead,
With a martial manly grace;
We see as we scan, thro' the sun-stained tan,
Full many a veteran'd face.

II.

There are new made graves, neath the woodland waves
By a holy martyrdom sealed.
As o'er fringed the front, of the battle's brunt,
O'er the world's encrimsoned shield.
And like Brothers again, tho scars may remain,
We'll fight one another no more;
And the eyes of the Fair, neath their golden hair
Kindling love as in days of yore.

III.

The bells we will ring, and our ballads sing,
In harmonious cadence all;
No longer have raids, thro' our Everglades
And our Southron chaparral.
All hail to the brave and the Peace they gave,
The star-spangled banner we'll sing; thro',
While with Dixie song too, we'll march the land
O er hill and dale, re echoing!

IV.

The Sun will grow pale, ere their glory shall fail,
And this Earth dissolve into air;
While the picketed stars at the outpost bars,
Shall countersign Peace ev'rywhere.
Then here's to the Fourth, the glorious old Fourth,
Made immortal by Washington;
Let all who have love, for the stars above,
Shout aloud for the Land he won!

Have we a National Disease?

S. D. Wallace, Esq. President of the Wilmington & Weldon Railroad, [Aug. 30, 1865,] says: "It has been said that Dyspepsia is our national disease. However this may be, it caused me, long and severe suffering. Providentially a friend furnished me with a few boxes of the HEPATIC PILLS, and the use of them has perfected a cure. In my family they have been used frequently with eminent success. Among my acquaintances, many cases originating from diseased liver, have been relieved and cured by them. I regard them as an invaluable medicine, and take pleasure in forwarding this voluntary tribute."

For sale by the Druggists. Directions accompany each box. Sent to any part of the United States for $1 per dozen. Address,

A NEW AND GRAND EPOCH IN MEDICINE!

DR. MAGGIEL is the founder of a new Medical System! The quantitarians, whose vast internal doses enfeeble the stomach and paralyse the bowels, must give precedence to the man who restores health and appetite, with from one to two of his extraordinary Pills, and cures the most virulent sores with a box or so of his wonderful and all healing Salve. These two great specifics of the Doctor are fast superseding all the stereotyped nostrums of the day. Extraordinary cures by Maggiel's Pills and Salve have opened the eyes of the public to the inefficiency of the (so called) remedies of others, and upon which people have so long blindly depended. Maggiel's Pills are not of the class that are swallowed by the dozen, and of which every box full taken creates an absolute necessity for another. One or two of Maggiel's Pills suffices to place the bowels in perfect order, tone the stomach, create an appetite, and render the spirits light and buoyant! There is no griping, and no reaction in the form of constipation. If the liver is affected, its functions are restored; and if the nervous system is feeble it is invigorated. This last quality makes the medicines very desirable for the wants of delicate females. Ulcerous and eruptive diseases are literally extinguished by the disinfectant power of Maggiel's Salve. In fact, it is here announced that Maggiel's Bilious, Dyspeptic and Diarrhea Pills cure where all others fail. While for Burns, Scalds, Chilblains, Cuts and all abrasions of the skin Maggiel's Salve is infallible. Sold by J. MAGGIEL, 43 Fulton Street, New York, and all Druggists, at 25 cts. per box. Sold by all Druggists in Raleigh.

A BOON TO THE SICK. AND THE LIGHT OF THE WORLD.

DR. MAGGIEL'S PILLS AND SALVE.

These Life-giving remedies are now given publicly to the world. For over a quarter of a century of private practice the ingredients in these

LIFE-GIVING PILLS!

Have been used with the greatest success. Their mission is not only to prevent disease, but to cure. They search out the various maladies by which the patient is suffering and re-invigorate the failing system. To the aged and infirm a few doses of these valuable PILLS will prove to be

A VERY FOUNTAIN OF YOUTH,

For in every case they add new life and vitality, and restore the waning energies to their pristine state.—To the young and middle-aged they will prove most invaluable, as a ready, specific, and sterling medicine. Here is a dream realized, that Ponce de Leon sought for three hundred years ago, and never found. He looked for a fountain that would restore the old to vigor and make youth ever

An Eternal Spring!

It was left for this day and hour to realize the dream, and show in one glorious fact, that magic that made it fair.

THESE FAMOUS REMEDIES

Cannot stay the flight of years, but they can force back and hold aloof, diseases that might triumph over the aged and the young. Let none hesitate then, but seize the favorable opportunity the offers. When taken as prescribed—

FOR BILLIOUS DISORDERS

Nothing can be more productive of cure than these Pills. Their almost magic influence is felt at once; and the usual concomitants of this most distressing disease are removed. These remedies are made from the purest

VEGETABLE COMPOUNDS.

They will not harm the most delicate female, and can be given with good effect in prescribed dose to the youngest babe.

FOR CUTANEOUS DISORDERS

And all eruptions of the skin, the SALVE is most invaluable. It does not heal externally alone, but penetrates with the most searching effects to the very root of the evil!

DR. MAGGIEL'S PILLS.

Invariably cure the following Diseases.

Asthma,
Bowel Complaints,
Coughs,

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

IS a concentrated extract of the choice root, so combined with other substances of still greater alterative power as to afford an effectual antidote for disease. Sarsaparilla is reputed to cure. Such a remedy is surely wanted by those who suffer from Strumous complaints, and that one which will accomplish their cure must prove, as this has, of immense service to this large class of our afflicted fellow-citizens. How complete this compound will do it has been proven by experiment on many of the worst cases to be found in the following complaints:

Scrofula, Scrofulous Swellings and Sores, Skin Diseases, Pimples, Pustules, Blotches, Eruptions, St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Tetter or Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, &c.

Syphilis or Venereal Disease is expelled from the system by the prolonged use of this Sarsaparilla, and the patient is left in comparative health.

Female Diseases are caused by Scrofula in the blood, and are often soon cured by this Extract of Sarsaparilla.

Do not discard this invaluable medicine, because you have been imposed upon by something pretending to be Sarsaparilla, while it was not. When you have used Ayer's—then, and not till then, will you know the virtues of Sarsaparilla. For minute particulars of the diseases it cures, we refer you to Ayer's American Almanac, which the agents below named will furnish gratis to all who call for it.

AYER'S CATHARTIC PILLS, for the cure of Costiveness, Jaundice, Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Dysentery, Foul Stomach, Headache, Piles, Rheumatism, Heartburn arising from Disordered Stomach, Pain or Morbid Inaction of the Bowels, Flatulency, Loss of Appetite, Liver Complaint, Dropsy, Worms, Gout, Neuralgia, and for a Dinner Pill.

They are sugar coated, so that the most sensitive can take them pleasantly, and they are the best Aperient in the world for all the purposes of a family physic.

COTTON GINS,

MANUFACTURED BY

W. G. CLEMONS, BROWN & CO.,

COLUMBUS, GA.

WE have received the manufacture of Cotton Gins in this city, and will be prepared to fill orders by 1st June next. As we shall not be, as heretofore, represented by traveling agents, parties wishing our Gins, will confer a favor by sending in their orders at as early day. As owing to the demand, we shall be unable to keep a stock in the hands of our local agents, as it was our practice before the war. All business transactions being now reduced to cash, our sales will be made on the basis of ready pay.

Our Gins are too well known to require any special notice or commendation; we believe they are unrivalled in the chief points of excellence which go to make up a superior machine, namely: Speed light draught and good sample.

Our DOUBLE CYLINDER GINS will be found superior to the single cylinder, when parties have steam or good water power, to give them the necessary speed. In all cases when this can be done, we recommend them in preference to the single cylinder. If, however, indifferent or insufficient power is used, they will not do as well as the single Gin.

Messrs. DEROSSET & CO., Wilmington, N. C., are our general agents for the State of North Carolina.

W. G. CLEMONS, BROWN & CO.

Columbus, Ga., April 24 '66.

We will give prompt attention to orders for the above celebrated Gins from any part of the State. The price is five dollars ($5) per Saw at the Factory, and five dollars for each Gin will only be charged to purchasers for transportation to this point.
